DISCLAIMERS

- Parliamentary and DUN constituency names follow the EC map of 1984 (for Peninsular Malaysia).
- S46 belongs to Gagasan Rakyat (GR) and Angkatan Perpaduan Ummah (APU) and hence was given a separate column. Parties for GR are S46, DAP, PRM, PBS, MSP and AMIPF. Parties for APU are S46, PAS, HAMIM, KIMMA and Berjasa.
- AMIPF contested under DAP and S46. Refer to the AMIPF Constituency Allocations section below for the distribution of constituencies contested under each symbol.
- According to the New Straits Times on 12th October 1990, HAMIM and Berjasa was given one DUN seat each.
- In the New Straits Times on 11th October 1990, HAMIM was reportedly given a seat in Sabak Bernam (though there is no evidence showing a specific allocation).
- According to the New Straits Times on 9th October 1990, Berjasa boycotted polls in Perlis, Kedah, Penang and Perak due to its dissatisfaction with APU's leadership and candidate line-up.
- Gerakan candidate sex category for DUN Tikam Batu is guessed.
- EC made a mistake in tallying the winning BN seat count for Terengganu. In the EC's report on the 1990 elections, the Appendix (and independent verification from Almanak Pilihan Raya) states BN won 23 seats, while PAS/APU won 7 seats in Terengganu. However, Tindak Malaysia's count for Terengganu shows PAS won 8 seats.

9 EC's report also made a mistake in the total ballots issued for DUN Jerangau (Terengganu). In the EC report's
 . main table, DUN Jerangau's total ballots issued is 6,236, but in the Appendix and cross-referencing with Almanak Pilihan Raya, it is listed as 6,136. However, if one calculates BN + S46 + spoiled votes + unreturned votes, the total equals 6,236 for DUN Jerangau (Terengganu). Hence, the total ballots issued for DUN Jerangau is taken as 6,236. Due to this mistake, the EC report Appendix sheet erroneously reported the total ballots issued for Terengganu as 269,414, when the actual number is 269,314.

1 According to the New Straits Times on 13th October 1990, the independent candidate for DUN N.13 Bandar
 0 (Terengganu) was reportedly from HAMIM. The New Straits Times on 23rd October 1990 erroneously
 . reported BN-MCA winning DUN N.13 Bandar (Terengganu).

1 EC had conflicting information regarding the party association of candidate Haji Khalid bin Man (N.4 Ara
 1 Rendang, Pulau Pinang). Haji Khalid bin Man is listed under S46 with 2,331 votes. However, in Appendix L5 of
 . the EC report, the 2,331 votes are listed under PAS. After referencing the New Straits Times, Tindak Malaysia established that PAS contested DUN N.4 Ara Rendang. This aligns with the final vote count in Appendix L5, where the EC report states PAS obtained 15,513 votes and S46 obtained 19,910 votes.

1 EC also made a mistake regarding the total ballots issued for DUN N.9 Sapetang (Perak). In the main table of
 2 the EC report, it is listed as 14,287, but in Appendix L6 it is listed as 14,278. In Almanak Pilihan Raya, it is also
 . listed as 14,278. Since 14,278 corresponds with the total ballots issued for Perak, Tindak Malaysia opted to use 14,287 for the DUN Sapetang result sheet.

1 The independent candidate for DUN N.34 Tanjong Tualang (Perak) was a former MCA Vice Chairman of 3 Kampar.

1 EC also made a mistake regarding the total ballots issued for DUN Beserah, Pahang. According to the original
 4 EC main table, the total ballots issued were 14,419, but in Appendix L7 it is stated as 14,418. The figure of
 . 14,418 mathematically matches the total ballots issued for Pahang and hence this value was chosen for the DUN result sheet.

1 EC also made a mistake in the total count of seats won by BN and DAP (GR) in Johor. In the EC report
 5 Appendix (and cross-referencing with Almanak Pilihan Raya), BN is stated to have won 31 seats and DAP won 4 seats in Johor. However, Tindak Malaysia's checks show DAP won only 3 seats, with no victories by other GR component parties in Johor.

1 The EC report also provided alternative DUN spelling names. Refer to the DUN Constituency Spelling
 6 Discrepancy section below.

1 The EC report has an incomplete listing of independent symbols for DUN candidates (currently omitted from
 7 the 1990 DUN Results sheet).

1 Significant gaps for candidate age and sex category.
